

Mobile Software Service Applications

Empowering Mobile Employees with Information and Resources

Jargon Software ForceField™ was developed for any business with a workforce in the field required to manually fill out forms or paperwork, and then re-entered into their back office application.

Jargon ForceField replaces forms that are used by your field workforce, improving communication, eliminating costs, and preventing costly errors.

Jargon Software helps companies and organizations streamline operations, increase productivity, and improve profitability. We embed entire databases, catalogs, inventories, etc... on any Windows mobile device. (PDA, notebook, netbook, tablet, smart phone, or handheld device) Jargon provides the fastest and easiest way to develop and deploy connected or disconnected mobile business applications linked to any back office software.

ForceField mobility applications process your information faster and more accurately while building better customer relationships. You illustrate your company's ability to connect to your clients by leveraging mobility technology.
